From CIO's Desk

November 2025

November saw a series of consequential macroeconomic and policy developments shaping the domestic backdrop. Legislative activity stayed elevated as the government advanced reforms aimed at institutional realignment and governance improvements, amid ongoing political debate over their scope. Regional security tensions persisted, with cross-border frictions showing little sign of easing. On the fiscal front, revenue mobilization fell short of targets, highlighting structural collection challenges. The IMF flagged governance issues within key public-sector entities, calling for stronger safeguards and clearer operating mandates. The Competition Commission (CCP) cleared the opening of the financial bid phase for HBFCL's divestment, with the mortgage refinance company emerging as the likely acquirer. Separately, the IMF Board is expected to meet in early December to approve the next tranche under the program. The government also unveiled the National Industrial Policy 2025–2030, aimed at repositioning Pakistan's industrial base toward higher-value, export-led production. The policy targets competitiveness, technology adoption, and sectoral upgrading, though outcomes will depend on effective execution and sustained reforms.

Headline inflation eased to 6.1% year-on-year (YoY) in November 2025, below market expectations of 6.5%, compared to 6.24% in October and 4.86% in November 2024. On a month-on-month (MoM) basis, the Consumer Price Index (CPI) rose modestly by 0.4%, following a 1.8% increase in October. Food inflation declined to 5.38% from 5.56% in the previous month, while core inflation edged down to 7.26% from 7.87% in October, remaining lower than the 9.69% recorded in November 2024. Average inflation for July–November FY26 settled at 5.01%, a notable improvement from 7.94% during the same period last year.

During Jul–Oct FY2026, Pakistan's macroeconomic performance presented a mixed picture. The current account posted a USD 733 million deficit, compared with a USD 206 million deficit in the same period last year, driven primarily by a widening goods trade gap, as imports outpaced exports. Meanwhile, Large-Scale Manufacturing (LSM) expanded by 4.1% in Jul–Sep FY2026, up from 3.2% a year earlier, indicating a modest improvement in industrial activity. Remittance inflows remained a key pillar of support, rising to USD 3.4 billion in October 2025 and reaching USD 12.9 billion during 4MFY26, compared to USD 11.9 billion in 4MFY25, representing a 9.3% increase.

In the fixed income market, yield movements were mixed. Short-term rates softened, with the 3-month tenor easing 11 bps to 10.85%, while the 6-month and 12-month papers declined 2 bps and 15 bps, closing at 10.98% and 11.15%, respectively. Further along the curve, the 3-year and 5-year tenors posted modest increases of 2 bps and 9 bps, ending at 11.40% and 11.59%. Overall, the curve exhibited a mild steepening, with front-end declines offset by gradual firming in longer maturities — signaling a cautious tilt toward duration as near-term rate expectations moderated while medium-term uncertainties remained in focus.

After a brief corrective spell, the equity market regained momentum, with the KSE-100 Index closing at 166,678 points, delivering a 3.12% gain for the month. Broader benchmarks moved in tandem, as the KSE-30 Total Return and KMI-30 rose 3.61% and 2.84%, respectively. However, the rebound unfolded against a backdrop of exceptionally subdued liquidity, with trading activity sharply tapering off. Average daily traded value sank 33.84% MoM to PKR 34.86 billion, while average daily volumes plunged 42.75% to 818.76 million shares — underscoring a market that advanced despite noticeably thinner participation. Sector-wise, Fertilizers, Oil & Gas Exploration, and Cement led the uptick. Within the KSE-30 universe, standout performers included FFC (+22.3%), PPL (+13.4%), and SSGC (+12.4%), whereas SEARL (–7.8%), SNGP (–6.0%), and BAHL (–5.6%) were notable laggards.

Foreign flows remained essentially unchanged in character, with November witnessing another month of persistent outflows as net selling reached USD 41.34 million, once again concentrated in Commercial Banks, Cements, and Oil & Gas Exploration — effectively a continuation of the same trend seen in recent months. On the domestic front, there was a notable divergence. Banks/DFIs and Individuals emerged as the principal buyers, deploying USD 95.44 million and USD 20.88 million, respectively. What stood out, however, was the pronounced selling by Mutual Funds, which offloaded USD 82.56 million, driven mainly by institutional redemptions, making them the key net sellers within the local investor base.

Global bond markets saw modest upward pressure, with U.S. Treasury yields edging higher as investors repriced the global policy outlook amid rising sovereign funding needs and concerns that higher fiscal deficits could keep long-term yields elevated. The 10-year closed 2 bps up at 4.023%, while the 30-year rose 3 bps to 4.674%. In equities, concerns over an AI-driven speculative tilt intensified, drawing late-1990s parallels and heightening volatility across growth names. The Nasdaq fell nearly 2%, snapping a seven-month rally; the S&P 500 slipped 0.6% after six months of gains, while the Dow was broadly flat. Political shifts in the U.S. added to caution as a progressive candidate won the New York City mayoral race. Regionally, tensions between China and Japan escalated after comments by Japan's Prime Minister on possible military action in Taiwan. Fitch's Global Economic Outlook (3Q25) projects world GDP growth of 2.4% in 2025 and 2.3% in 2026. In commodities, Brent and WTI eased 2.6% and 2.8% to USD 59.41 and USD 63.27 per barrel, while gold hit a new all-time high, closing at USD 4,258/oz on firm safe-haven demand.

Our portfolio positioning remains grounded in disciplined asset allocation. In fixed income, we stay oriented toward an eventual easing cycle, keeping duration calibrated as yields hold firm and supply-driven inflation keeps sentiment cautious. In equities, we continue to favor fundamentally strong and attractively valued businesses. Ahead, the pace and credibility of reforms will be key to sustaining investor confidence and long-term market stability.

JSMFI Description

JSMFI combines the appeal and intuition of a passive approach. It takes a quantitative approach that systematically analyzes, selects, weights and rebalances portfolio holdings based on a certain characteristic — called factor i.e. Momentum for this index. The theory behind Momentum is that stocks whose share prices have consistently risen for a given period of time are likely to keep rising. JSMFI has developed an index methodology that captures momentum in an intuitive and transparent way, making it accessible to all investors.
